But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus, His Son, purifies us from all sin. 1 John 1:7

Principal Glandorf's Corner

Dear Families & Friends,

The upcoming Thanksgiving holiday provides wonderful opportunities for families to come together and appreciate the blessings we receive from our Heavenly Father. Thanksgiving is synonymous with stuff that can be found only at home – the warmth of a fireplace, early morning fussing around the kitchen, children and grandchildren, long distance phone calls, family reunions, playing a touch football game in the street or backyard, pumpkin pie, homemade rolls, and six million calories.

It is a quiet time of reflection upon the past and an annual reminder that God has again been ever so faithful. The simple things of life are brought into clear focus, so much so that everything else fades into insignificance.

Thanksgiving is good for our roots. It deepens, strengthens and thickens them, making us more secure in spite of the world in which we live. The meal, the memories, and the family traditions have a way of blocking out the issues we face in our daily lives.

As you enjoy your Thanksgiving holiday with family, I'd like to close with a prayer written by Charles Swindoll. He writes:

LOOK UP . . . thank You, Lord . . .

for Your sovereign control over our circumstances for Your Holy character in spite of our sinfulness for Your Word that gives us direction for Your Grace that removes our guilt

LOOK AROUND . . . thank You, Lord . . .

for our wonderful country
for close family ties
for an opportunity to help others
for a place to live, clothes to wear, food to eat

LOOK WITHIN . . . thank You, Lord . . .

for eyes that see the beauty of Your creation for minds that are curious, creative, and competent for memories of pleasures and recent accomplishments for broken dreams and lingering afflictions that humble us for a sense of humor that brings healing and hope

He is worthy of our highest praise and gratitude. To Him goes all the glory.

On behalf of the faculty and staff at Zion Lutheran Church & School - Happy Thanksgiving to you all!

Educating for Eternity,

Steve Glandorf

Principal
